The Architect

Based on the novel
by Frances Hardinge

Miss Penelope
Crescent...

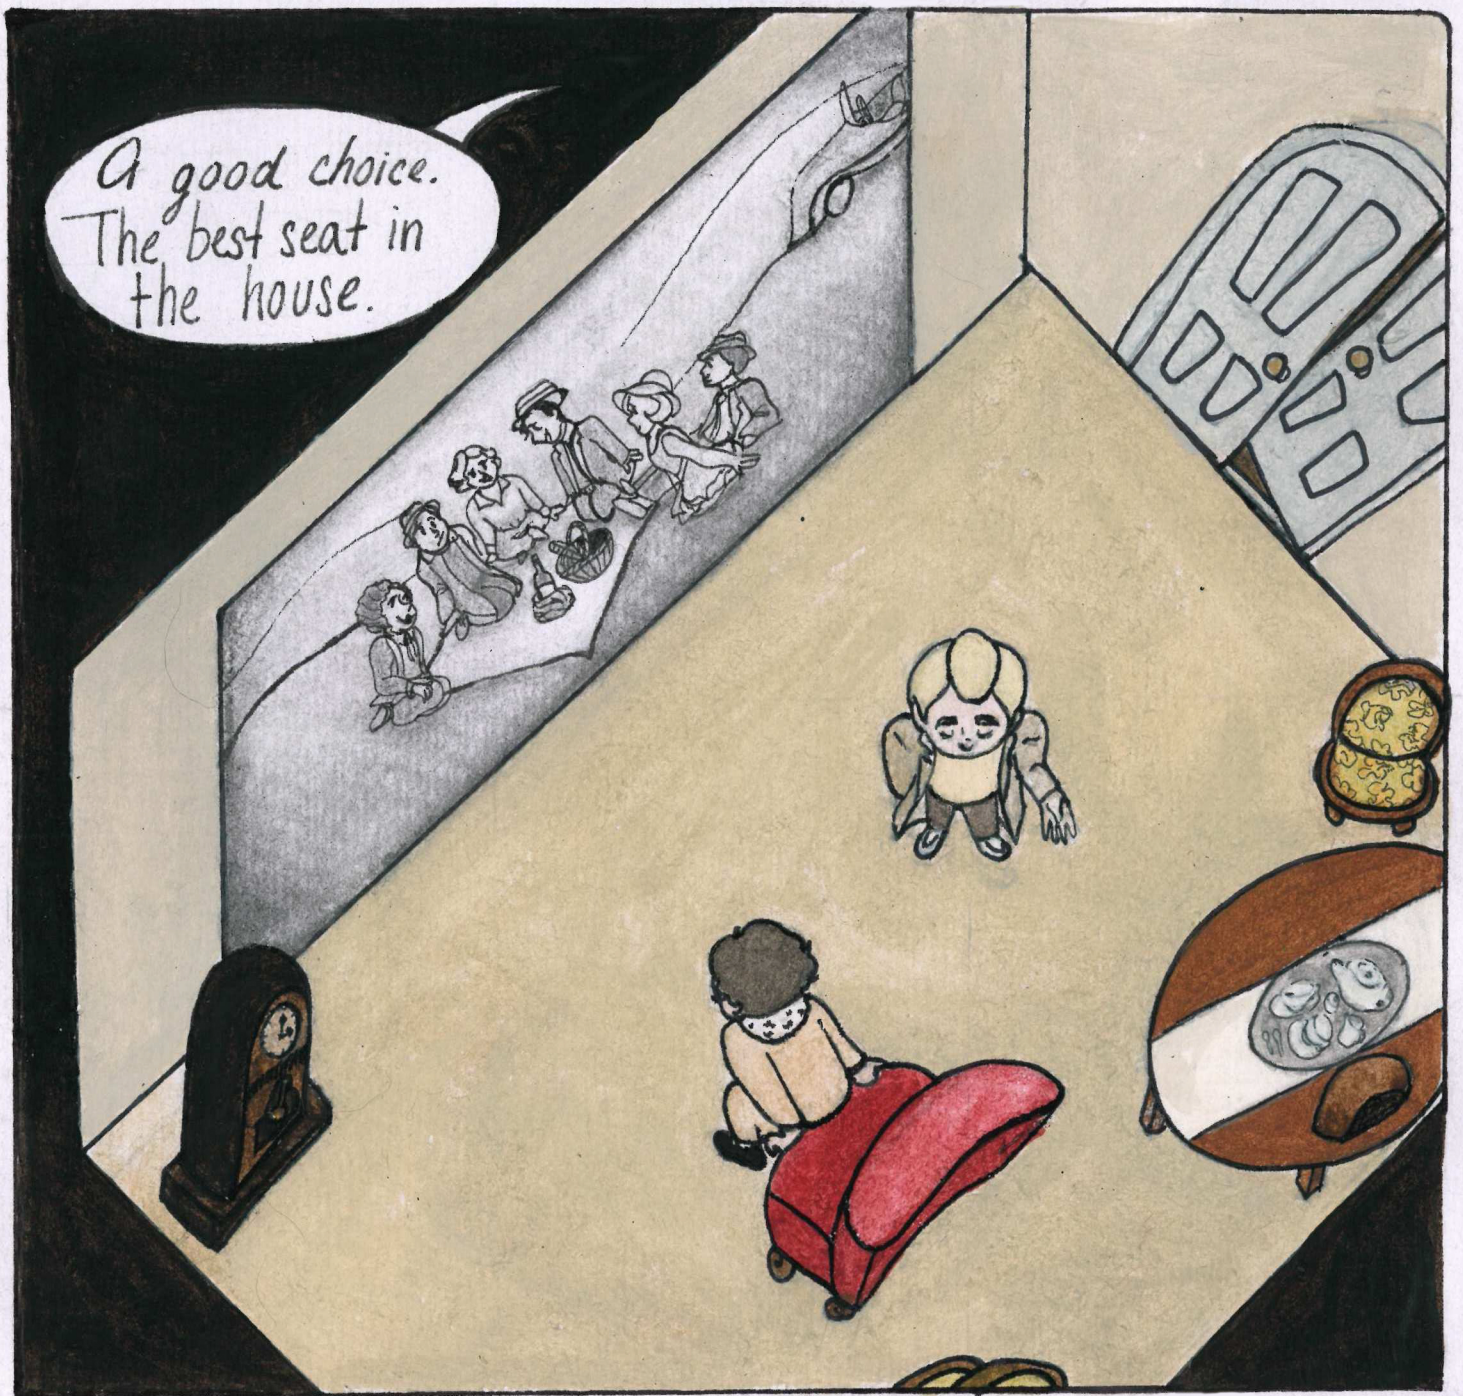

Always
a pleasure.

Please.

TELL?

But that would be BREAKING OUR BARGAIN!

I don't care! I'll tell them
all what happened to Triss, and about
the bird-things,
and the telephones!

Ah, never a dull moment in your company Miss Cresent.

Well, never let it be said that I left some-one unsatisfied with their bargain.

I take such things very seriously.

Since you are so insistent...

... It appears I will have to change some arrangements. Will you excuse me?

My dear, I must ask you not to touch anything while I'm gone.

The items in this room, simple as they are, are important to me.

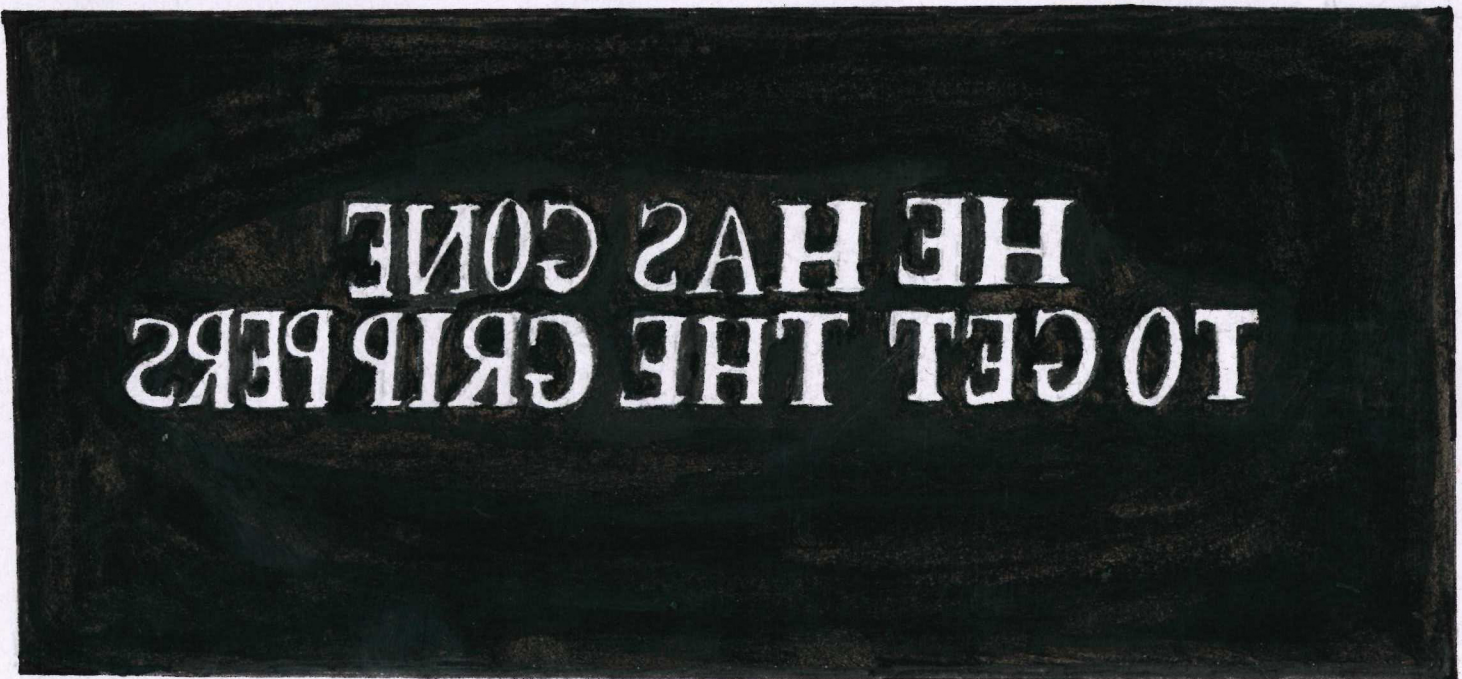

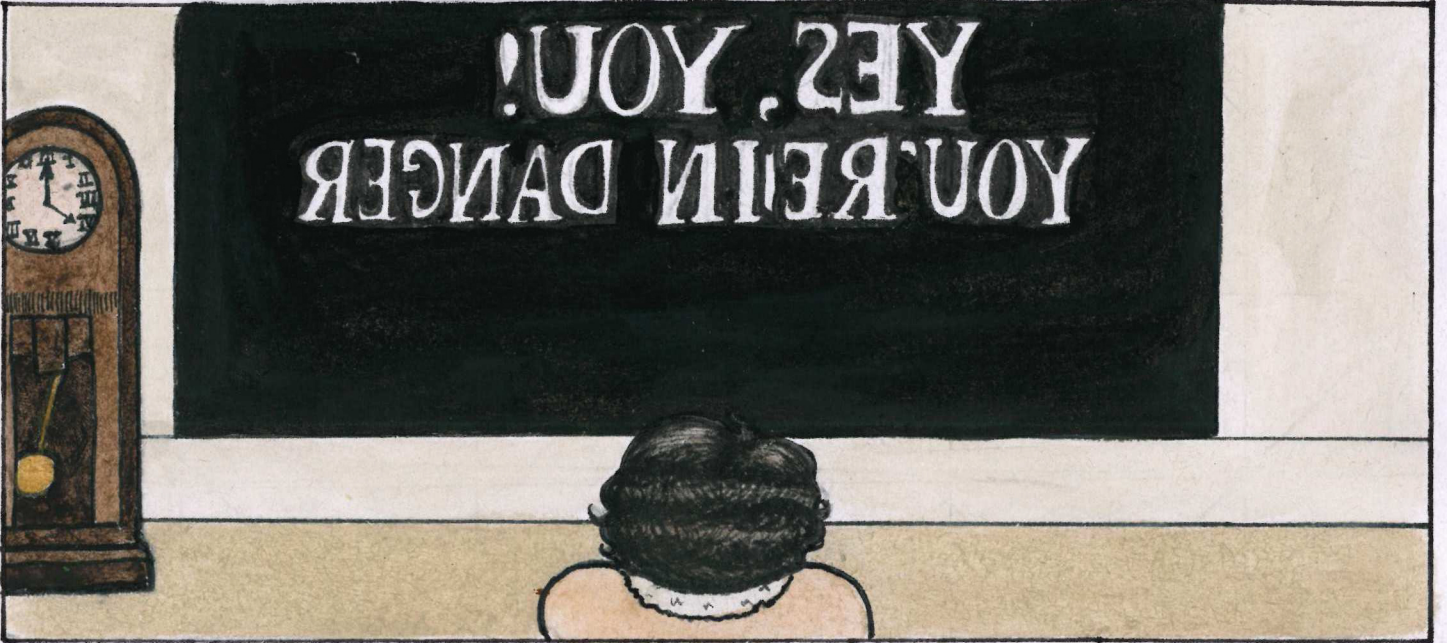

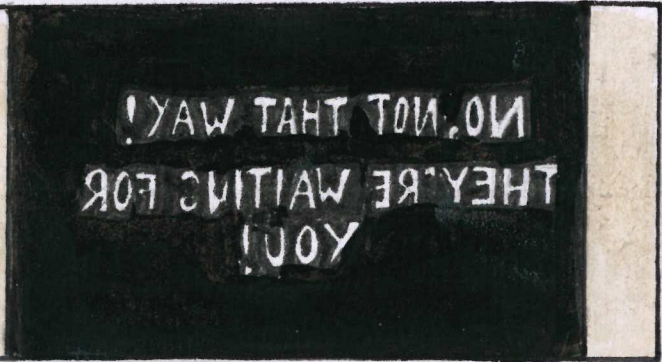

HEY!

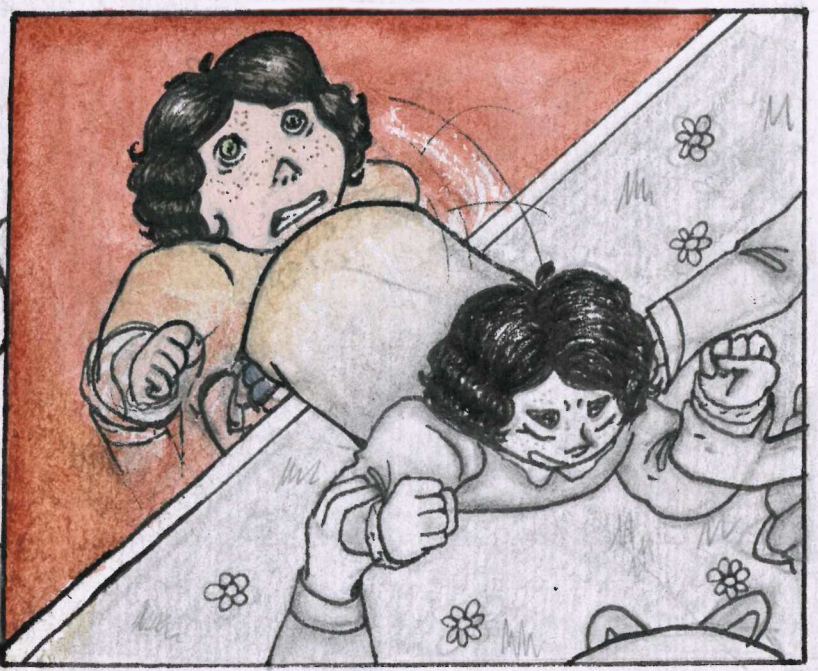

*It serves her right.
She brought it all on herself.*

Oh, Pen...

I hate you.

I hate you...
